Hi All,

What a week we have had. The weather has been bonkers , with silly hot days coupled with cold mornings and a bit of rain thrown in for good measure. We are all having the same dilemma in a morning as to what to wear. Do you brace yourself and wear summer stuff and anticipate a little shivering in the morning or do you wrap up warm and then swelter as the day goes on. I personally have opted to layer up and then shed as the day goes on so that my office resembles a teenagers bedroom by 4pm with all the discarded items of clothing all over the floor. Anyway here is to a fantastically sunny weekend. I hope the paddling pools are pulled out and copious amounts of ice-cream and cold drinks are consumed.

This week was a great week with Tuesday being my favourite day of the year. I just love the colour run. The sense of fun mixed with the Sharley Park family feel, is just gorgeous. The engagement of our parents—who can I remind you, pay money to allow staff to throw water and powder paint at them—is brilliant. The children are buzzing and the staff are in their element, not only wetting children and parents but also wetting each other and throwing paint on any staff who have a slither of white on their t-shirts still visible. I just totally love the feels we get on this day. A massive thank you to Miss Potter for organising it and here's to next year. The feedback from parents has been, as usual, so positive— thank you.

This week Y5 went on their Eyam and Bakewell trip and Year 1 went to Twycross. Both cohorts loved their trips and the staff were again so pleased with the exemplary behaviour from all the children. I wanted to take the time to also thank the bike workshop who have given up their time, free of charge, to offer the community the ability to have their bikes checked and repaired. It was great to see so many of you over the last 4 weeks bring your bikes in for some TLC.

Today the Year 4 and Year 6 had an amazing time at the official opening of the Sharley Park Leisure Centre. The children met a sporting celebrity and enjoyed sports games, with a particular favourite being the laser tag zone. I have to say I absolutely loved it although I certainly did not score as high as some of the children. I would recommend a visit to check out the facilities and the brand new swimming pool. I have been told that there are concessions for families, so it may be a useful venue to entertain the kiddies over the summer.

Have a super weekend.

I am back in good books as I did all my commands really well and got treats for doing so. I have been out and about with the little people this week and I love that they show me the heart sign when they see me.
