Hi All,

This week seems to flown by with such speed that I feel that I have blinked and missed some of it. The weather continues to confuse us with gorgeous sunshine, hand in hand with a cold chill and don't get me started on the torrential rain that joined us on Thursday.

As you will have the seen, the scaffolding went up with speed only slowed down by the weather, in particularly the high winds. Apart from having to move the fencing a little and having a yellow tonka truck on site, it is so far so good. I have been told that the solar panels will be installed on the roof over the next few weeks and we are hopeful for minimal disruption. Miss Benton and the climate ambassador children have been working with the e-energy team and Energy Sparks team. They have taken part in climate workshops as have the Year 5's. On Monday we will have a film crew on site but they will only be recording the school, the solar panels and a few key staff.

This week we received further good news. I now have a date for the start of the extension of the EYFS outdoor shelter, that if you remember was erected over the summer but mistakenly made 3 metres too small. The ground work will begin over the Easter holiday with the extension taking place in May. We are really hopeful that all will be sorted and the new flooring down in readiness for the Summer term and the improved weather.

We have also been chosen to have an EV charger installed in the carpark, for the future increase in electric cars that staff may have. The school could not pass up this free offer, with the knowledge that EV and hybrid cars are on the increase. We are not sure when the EV charger will be switched on but I can assure you that due to safeguarding policies it will not be a public charger and will be for the sole use of the school staff only.

It is with delight that I see the Easter hamper, that the staff kindly donate to, growing in size. The hampers will some be created by Mrs Hobson and Mrs Kirk and will be advertised asap. Remember to purchase tickets, to be in with a chance to win an Easter treat.

Next week is also Enterprise week where the children will focus their learning on how - creating an idea, evaluating an idea, seeking customer preferences, advertising, budgeting, resource purchasing etc is part of the world that surrounds them. Think 'The apprentice meets Sharley Park' and you have the idea. At the end of the week each class will have produced an item to sell to see if they have been able to cover the cost of the money they have borrowed to start their business. This year they will be focussed on recycling. Please remember that every penny that school raises from these events goes back into school. Our recent 220 iPads were purchased using money raised from these events and we thank you for your continued support.

Have a great weekend. Happy Mothers day on Sunday

Hi Bear here, I have highjacked this segment as Teddy has been at home most of this week. This is because on Tuesday I had to have an operation and I needed to be sensible for the few days after it. Mummy said that there was no way that me and Teddy would be sensible together so Teddy stayed at home with Daddy. I am sure he will be back next week, if I let him hee hee.

Love Bear (and Teddy) xx
