Hi All,

Another great week but I can't believe that it is Friday already and sadly like most of you, the list of jobs to have achieved this week has not gotten any smaller but actually has got a little longer lol.

Next week is a fab one. We have the Halloween disco to look forward to on Thursday after school and not only that but also next Thursday is Rule the School day. For any parents that are not sure what Rule the School is— I will explain. Rule the School is a day when the staff become the students and the winning children are randomly picked from the raffle bowls, to take the place of the Teacher and Teaching assistants in the class. The winning children have the chance to plan the days activities, including what Maths, Reading and Writing the class will do in the morning and also what activities and learning the class will do in the afternoon. The winning children get to dress like the teachers and have quite a lot of power for the day. The staff are also given the opportunity to find their inner child and I must say that there is usually a lot of naughtiness and mischief through out the day. There is also the ability for children to choose to put their raffle tickets in the Headteacher and Deputy Headteacher bowl and be in with a chance to be randomly chosen to take the place of myself and Mrs Clarkson for the day. These two children get the opportunity to observe lessons, make improvements to school and spend a little of the budget on something that they feel would be enjoyed by all in school. They also get the chance to tell the adult children off— which tends to be the favourite job. The raffle tickets will be chosen on Wednesday to allow the children to plan their day, so please get some raffle tickets if you haven't already.

The dog trainer will be in Monday afternoon to attempt to tame the beastie that is Bear! To be honest he is doing really well in his training and his next step is to socialise him around school and to help his confidence around school. At the moment his go to is to bark when he is unsure of situations.

On Wednesday 21st we will be having our Harvest Festivals for the different cohorts, sadly I am out of school on this day, so Mrs Clarkson has the fabulous job of welcoming you all to the Harvest Festivals. I know the children have worked hard on their songs, poems and presentations.

We have the last of our school open evenings for EYFS Sept 2027 Starters on Tuesday 20th. Please ask the office for any further info. We have been really pleased with the amount of interest in places for 2027, so if you are exploring places in schools for 2027, then do feel free to pop along.

Have a great weekend

Mrs S xx

I spent some time this week in Mrs Clarkson's room, with Bear, as there were some important meetings in Mummy's room. I must say that Mrs Clarkson did not seem to get a lot of work done as she kept needing to pick us up for snuggles. This must be something that has to happen when we are in her room and I am not complaining.

Love Teddy and Bear xx
